

Double click in the space above where you can type to use a heading, select page number on the right and then type your last name in front of the number.

Smith 1

Alexis Smith

Mrs. Cannon

Literature 8

November 12, 2013

Your heading must always include:
Name
Teacher
Class
Date
(no abbreviations)

Your work must be typed in the following font:

Times New Roman, size 12

Hunger Games Comparisons

Your work must always have a title, centered, no bold, no underline.

Indent every paragraph

Although the Hunger Games are built in a dystopian society, there are still many aspects that are similar to actual past events. Such include Slave Plantations and ancient Roman Gladiators at the Colosseum.

No extra space between paragraphs.

The first comparison is to the Slave Plantations. The forced work in hard conditions and long hours is very similar to those of slave plantations. In District 12, people are put to work in

This box is intentionally blocking out the body of this essay.

Plagiarism is not tolerated and all work must be your original ideas with proper quoting and citations when referencing another author's work.